Heavy Water Vote Deluges San Diego County Tuesday

Second Barrel Assured by Big Vote

The people of San Diego County overwhelmingly endorsed the bringing of more water to this section by way of a second barrel in the voting on Tuesday.

The vote throughout the San Diego County Water Authority, city and county:

Yes 80,640
No 2,097

The Sutherland dam bond issue carried in the city of San Diego: yes, 53,853; no, 9,086.

An estimated 44% of the total registered voters went to the polls to cast ballots on this vital issue and its overwhelming endorsement by the people means that the future of this area is assured.

There is no stopping of the growth of San Diego County.

Children Can Buy Cafeteria Meals at Same Low Prices

With three cafeterias now operating in the Lemon Grove School District, approximately 550 students enjoy hot nourishing lunches daily at San Miguel, Vista La Mesa and Golden Avenue schools. The latter includes the junior high unit.

The San Miguel School, newest in Lemon Grove, is now to 30 pupils each day in the attractive cafeteria; at Vista La Mesa about 145 pupils buy lunches and at Golden Avenue and Lemon Grove the number of boys and girls purchasing meals has grown to 325.

Students on double session or in kindergarten do not have an opportunity to avail themselves of cafeteria meals. Of the 1400 children who attend classes a full day, however, over one-third eat in the school cafeterias.

Even in view of the reduced amounts of surplus food being made available to schools and the great rise in food prices generally, the Lemon Grove District school cafeterias have not yet found it necessary to raise the cost of lunches. Every attempt will be made to hold the price to the nominal sum of 25 cents and at the same time to maintain the fine well-balanced menus always offered.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Steele, who recently sold the Broadway Nursery, are leaving next week for Long Beach where they will spend some time in the home of their daughter.

Hi, Neighbor Chestmobile

by Mac Rae Graham

We want to call your attention to a most important meeting being held at the Woman's Club house at 2 p. m. next Monday afternoon.

R. W. Baird of Carlsbad, field representative for American Red Cross, will be present to give any information desired about a Red Cross Branch.

Lemon Grove is one of the few, and the largest, in the County which does not have a Red Cross organization.

The annual Red Cross drive is almost upon us. If we have a Branch, as we should, Lemon Grove will have access to a share of the fund raised here, for local work.

The Gas Company is serving 17,000 people here now, and in any community of that size there can be many calls for relief or assistance.

Lemon Grove always rallies to the call in Red Cross time. Why not have an organized group to keep the community participating the year 'round in the many activities of Red Cross.

Nearby San Diego has the largest Naval Service center in the world. Let's get in step and do our part.

Red Cross disaster service is another phase which we will present next week in a special article.

We are still short-handed in getting out the Review. Thanks to those who are getting their news, publicity and ads, in early.

Also to subscribers who are saving us the time of mailing notices by paying their subscriptions in the office or by mail.

Woman's Club Will Present Three-Act Comedy

Try outs for a 3-act comedy, "Return Engagement," by Lawrence Riley will be held by Mrs. Frank O'Connor, director of drama, March 4 and 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the Lemon Grove Woman's Club house. Mrs. O'Connor, who is proficient in her field, advises that the play has a number of good parts for men.

The female parts will be taken by members of the Woman's Club and Juniors. If you are interested in dramatics Mrs. O'Connor will welcome your attendance whether you enter the troupe or not.

The Garden Section will have hardy Aster plants, ordered by Mrs. George Wills, for distribution at the meeting on March 4, at 2 p. m. in the clubhouse. Mrs. Frank Barber, chairman, will discuss planting of hardy asters.

Mrs. H. Irving Vernier, president of the club, has invited the Tia Juana Woman's Club to be guests of the club on March 14. Senora Maria Louisa Melo de Remes, president, has welcomed this opportunity to extend club acquaintances.

The Club will have a rummage sale of March 21 and 22.

Lutheran Ladies Have Work Conference

The Southern California Circuit of the Women's Missionary Federation held a Spring work conference at the local Lutheran Church all day Wednesday.

Ladies were here from Our Savior's, College and La Jolla Lutheran Churches.

Over 70 ladies were served luncheon at noon by the local ladies.

Mrs. William Yeager, of Kalamazoo, Mich., came via plane Tuesday to visit in the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alice Yeager 2001 Noble. She is enjoying the abundant sunshine and especially the lovely Spring blossoms.

There are now 30,293 Units of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in the Boy Scouts of America.

Will be Here on March 18

Although the Chestmobile will be in Lemon Grove for only one day, March 18, local sponsors are preparing for at least 600 persons to have x-rays.

Local Kiwanis, Lions, P.T.A., Business Women, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations will co-operate to make it possible for all who wish to take advantage of the service.

"With the last Lemon Grove survey one of the most outstanding in the county, I am sure that the 1952 program will set a new high," Dr. J. B. Askew, Director of Public Health, stated. "Annual chest x-rays for all persons 15 years of age and over are advisable for protection of personal and community health," Dr. Askew emphasized.

An extensive community effort will be made to utilize the full capacity of the Chestmobile which can take 500 chest x-rays a day, or two persons x-rayed every minute. The local school children will carry home announcements to their parents. Posters and Placards will be placed throughout the community.

During the Chestmobile location at Broadway and Main, local volunteer workers will assist in registration so that there will not be any delay.

The Chestmobile is a cooperative program of the San Diego Department of Public Health and the San Diego County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

BUYS FOR STYLE SHOW

Mrs. Carol Winkel Smith, proprietor of Carol Ann Shop, made a trip to Los Angeles last week. While there she devoted much of her time to purchasing the latest fashions which will be shown at the Fashion Frolics at the Woman's Club house on March 15 at 8 p. m. The Frolics is sponsored by the Woman's Club Juniors and will be one of the outstanding events of the Spring season.

Award PTA Life Memberships to John Blaine and Mrs. Milner

Last Thursday evening, at the new San Miguel Auditorium, Mrs. R. H. Milner and John Blaine were awarded Honorary Life Memberships, the highest honor that the association can bestow.

Presentation of pins was made by Margaret Darroch, life membership chairman, who told the group that the awards were given for outstanding work with and for children in the community.

To celebrate the 55th Founders Day of P.T.A., Mrs. G. D. Edwards, president of Ninth District, was the guest speaker. She was introduced by Mrs. J. Gilbert Durham, program chairman for the evening.

The traditional corsage for the mother with the largest number of children in school was given to Mrs. James Mulder; the oldest grandmother present was a visitor from Cleveland.

One of the highlights of the program was the appearance of the Green Robed choir from Helix High School under the direction of Jena Evans.

Following a report by Mrs. B. L. Netzel, parliamentarian of Mt. Helix Council, it was voted that the present junior high school will retain the charter and by-laws of the Lemon Grove School P.T.A., and that Golden Avenue School and San Miguel School will form new associations. The nominating committee for the officers' slate for the junior high school association was then elected. Mrs. S. K. Sallder, president, presided at the meeting.

The speakers table was beautifully decorated with flowers, candles and a huge birthday cake in honor of Founders Day. Robert Sutton, principal of San Miguel School, welcomed all association members.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Floor Boards
Winter is a good time to fix floors between boards in a floor. If the home's heating system is in operation and the floors have shrunk. Clean the space between boards and fill with a paste mixture of fine sawdust and shellac, white and color.

Light Switches
The space around light switches receives a lot of traffic normally and therefore may be smudged frequently. After the space is cleaned, a thin coat or two of white shellac will make the area around the light switch easier to clean. An occasional lick dab with a damp cloth will keep the space clean.

Knots in Wood
Knots in lumber contain resin and pitch which will eventually "burn" through if covered directly with ordinary oil paint. To minimize "burning" and provide best coverage, give each knot preliminary coat of shellac before painting. The shellac will seal in the resin and the pitch.

Repairing Glass Pane
A cracked pane of glass can be apparently waterproofed with a coat of fresh, white shellac on inside. Vision will not be obstructed by the shellac coat. Rain and rain will be kept out if the pane is replaced.

Boiling Hint
To keep macaroni or spaghetti in boiling water while cooking, a tablespoon of butter or margarine in the water.

Creates Protective Warmth for ACHING CHEST COLDS

Mustorole instantly creates a wonderful protective warmth right where applied on chest, throat and back. It not only promptly relieves coughing and inflammation, but breaks up painful local congestion.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS of Main Street and the World

Department of Commerce Reports Personal Incomes at $251 Billion

ELIZABETH II—At first glance it would not seem important to the average American home towner that a young woman has assumed the duties of Queen of Great Britain and the British Commonwealth of Nations. But it is important and may have a great bearing on the future of many people in the cross-road towns of this country. It is around this young woman—Elizabeth II—the British people will rally in their last-chance fight against bankruptcy and break-up.

In the last 15 years the empire has been breaking up like a ship drifting in stormy seas. As recently as 1936 the empire was able to pay its way in international commerce. Today, however, Britain is the debtor of the world. And a complete break-down of British economy would be felt in the cross-roads of America.

Britain's present situation is almost entirely due to World War II. To win that struggle she sacrificed most of the money she had saved at the peak of her power when she directly ruled 450 million people. She spent many of her overseas investments to pay for guns and food.

In addition, the war altered the balance of power in the world, making the United States and Russia the dominant powers. Here again Britain becomes important to the United States because she is an ally by history, treaty and language.

So, the new Queen becomes a symbol of unity in the empire and an important figure in the balance of power between the United States and Russia. She is the figure around which the British people will rally. Whether she succeeds or fails is of vital importance to this country economically and politically.

CONTROLS—The fight is on. It began when President Truman requested an unenthusiastic congress to strengthen anti-inflation controls and extend the Defense Production Act for another two years—until the middle of 1954.

Again the President dashed out at the Capehart, Herlong, and Butler-Hope amendments which he unsuccessfully attempted to have repealed last session. He also swung a haymaker at congress generally by declaring "most people" already are having trouble paying present prices and congress should devote itself not to legislative formulas for raising prices, but instead to finding ways of moving prices downward.

The President's strong language caused many of the legislators to believe the chief executive was making 1952 campaign material. Controls and inflation are touchy subjects they know from experience. They also know they must take some kind of action that will impress the people in the home towns, but how they will get around the pressure groups, if they do, is another question.

PERSONAL INCOME—The Department of Commerce reports total personal incomes of Americans in 1951 was $251 billion dollars, 12 per cent above 1950. The department said that by the end of 1951 total individual incomes had advanced to an annual rate of 237 billion, compared with 238 billion at the end of 1950.

Except for a steady increase in farm income and in government salaries, other phases of the economy reported on showed incomes had become stabilized over the past six months.

The department reported the biggest increase was in government payrolls. They jumped by 33 per cent to an annual total of 29 billion. Farm incomes increased almost 25 per cent to a total of 17 billion. Higher farm prices accounted for most of the increase, the report said, but there was also slightly increased production.

In private industry, payrolls increased from 123½ billion in 1950 to 140 billion. Increased employment and higher wage rates were credited with the increase.

VETERAN TRAINING—Since enactment of the original GI bill, 7½ million veterans in the United States have taken advantage of its educational and vocational training provision, a house committee studying new legislation for Korean veterans reports. The bill's educational provisions—by far the most widely used and most expensive benefit—have cost the taxpayers $12,347,152,546 as of July, 1951.

Subsistence payments to veterans in school amounted to $8,645,203,870. Educational institutions received $3,276,046,630 in payment for tuition. Other payments for books and supplies (including tools for veterans in trade schools) came to $425,911,946.

Although not begrudging the money to veterans, the committee reported "graft and waste plagued the program" and an excessive number of VA employees took bribes, gifts, unusual loans, gratuities, services and ownership in schools.

Under the new bill just introduced in congress payments of all educational benefits will be made in a lump sum directly to the veteran. Single men would get $110 a month. Married veterans would receive $150.

FOREIGN AID—Fearing congress may severely cut foreign aid funds, the United States has warned European leaders to agree quickly on plans for a European defense force, including German troops, if they want to increase their possibility of getting economic assistance.

Secretary of State Acheson and other administration leaders feel that congress may become stubborn over foreign aid funds if they can not show real progress in European unity and the incorporating of German troops in the defense plan.

The greatest difficulty appears to get French Foreign Minister Schuman and West German Chancellor Adenauer to stop their bitter feud which threatens the whole defense project. There are two main points for their disagreement: (1) France is afraid of a resurgence of aggressive German nationalism once the Germans begin to rearm; (2) West Germany wants assurance that if its troops are to participate in the defense set-up it will have a voice in N.A.T.O. decisions.

The growing movement to draft General Eisenhower for the GOP Presidential nomination, got a big shot in the arm with a Madison Square Garden rally. The Texas delegation is shown on its arrival in Penn station in New York. It was estimated over 15,000 people attended the whooping-lup rally.

FARM REVOLUTION

Big Drop in Farm Labor Is Forecast

Increasing use of chemicals on American farms is expected to displace about 3½ million farm workers by 1970, a senate labor-management relations subcommittee said in a recent report.

Conducted by Dr. Francis J. Weiss for the subcommittee, the study reported "we are at the threshold of a new era that promises plentiful food and fiber, but is also fraught with the dangers of economic and social disruption against which we have to prepare our nation no less than against the dangers of armed aggression."

Weiss' report says chemical and mechanical labor-saving devices will reduce farm workers from the 1950 level of 9,320,000 to 7,785,000—a 17 per cent drop—by 1960 and another 2 million by 1970.

BROOM KEEPS SUSPECT IN LINE... Picked up by New York police after a shot was fired on 75th street, this fellow is firmly entrenched in a seat at the East 85th St. police station. Officers used the station house broom to keep prisoner pinned. Police say he was chased and captured after the shot. Two knives were taken from him. The prisoner was tentatively identified as John Buckmaster. But whether he fired the shots or what he was doing with the knives wasn't found out.

BRITAIN'S REIGNING FAMILY... Here is an informal picture of now Queen Elizabeth chubbing her one-year-old daughter Princess Anne, who reaches a chubby hand out for the chin of her father, the Duke of Edinburgh, who holds Prince Charles, Little Prince Charles, three years old, new becomes heir to the throne. This picture was made in August, 1951, on the grounds of their residence, Clarence House, London, in happier times before the king died.

STARTING NEW VOGUE FOR IKE... In Philadelphia, Pa., pretty Ann Fiero, of that city, goes all out for her choice as president of the United States in the coming election—General Dwight D. Eisenhower. Ann is wearing on her head a new creation, an "I like Ike" beany and a bow tie to match. A smiling portrait of General Eisenhower is a fitting backdrop.

CARRIES DYING BABY EIGHT MILES... A Norton, Va., physician denied that he refused to visit a 7-month-old dying baby because the Richard Hazelwood family, shown with their two-year-old son, did not have the money to pay for the call. Mrs. Hazelwood walked part of the eight-mile distance to St. Mary's hospital in Norton from her home in the Hopkins Chapel community, with the baby in her arms and leading her son. The baby died of pneumonia after arrival.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

BY ANDREW PEARSON

Budget Items

WHAT the average citizen may not entirely realize about the huge new budget facing the nation is that 83 per cent of it is for the military. This includes mutual security aid to Europe, primarily military, and care of veterans.

Thus a 17 per cent chunk of the taxpayers' money remains for civil purposes, including the Coast Guard, which is semi-military, the FBI, Secret Service and other domestic policing agencies of government. While some further pruning may be possible in the civilian branches, especially in regard to the pork-barrel, rivers-and-harbors bill which no congressman wants to cut, nevertheless, the major opportunity for saving, if any is to be accomplished, must be from the military's 83 per cent chunk.

Yet the military have been least cooperative about even the most rudimentary principles of efficient spending.

Take merely the simple question of buying against each other. One of the great pleas for unifying the Army and Navy was that it would save money; that the two branches of the armed services could pool their buying, not duplicate a list of thousands of items, such as towels, blankets, rope, pulleys, wrenches, all about the same whether used in the army or navy.

This, however, has not happened. Instead of working together on Army-Navy buying, there is now a third competitive service, the Air Force. It is true that much air force material is purchased for it by the Army, but efficient, unified buying, as done by a private business firm, just does not exist.

Keeps Them Guessing

President Truman is holding his political cards so close to his chest that not even his closest associates at the White House know his plans.

Even Charley Murphy, good-natured White House assistant, confessed to a friend the other day: "I don't know any more than the man in the moon whether Mr. Truman is going to run."

Actually, the President seems to enjoy playing a game with both his staff and visitors. At one moment, Mr. Truman will put on a long face and describe in great detail the trials of being President. A frequent remark is: "Two terms will kill any man."

The next minute, the President will casually comment how he is looking forward to a grass-roots campaign in the fall, and slyly watch his guest's startled reaction. This on-again-off-again, keep-'em-guessing game was partly behind his final decision to leave his name in the New Hampshire primary. The other reason was the pleas of Democratic leaders in New Hampshire that they would lose their places on the state and national committees if he did not leave his name in.

Best guess of Mr. Truman's intimates is that he is carefully laying the groundwork for a "draft Truman" campaign after the boomlets for all the other candidates have run their course.

Moscow Feud

Ambassador Alan Kirk, retiring as ambassador to Moscow, has handed in a sensational farewell report that a deadly feud has broken out in the Politburo over who is to succeed Prim' Minister Stalin.

Kirk reports that Zolotov and Malenkov, the Soviet production boss, are openly vying for power and lining up support within the Politburo for themselves.

Stalin is reported enjoying the spectacle and so far has made no move to intervene or designate a successor. Winner of this grim struggle undoubtedly will be the man who gets the support of Marshal Beria, head of Russia's secret police. As yet Beria has stayed out of the fight.

Communist Burma

The American delegation to the U.N., alarmed at the threat of Communist attack on Burma, has appealed secretly to the jittery Burmese government to have it ask the United Nations to send a watchdog commission to Burma immediately in order to guard against invasion. Some U.S. delegates, however, think it's already too late and that, by midsummer, Burma will be another Russian satellite.

Spies in Soviet

The Russians are having Joe McCarthy scares too. The Kremlin is so alarmed over military information leaking to us that it has banned German servants from working for Russians in East Germany, has built high fences around its airfields, has added new restrictions on American military attaches behind the Iron Curtain, has even cut off nonclassified technical magazines from western sources. They're almost as scared as we are.

TULE LAKE

Fabulous Crops Being Produced On Dry 90,000-Acre Lake Bed

Modern pioneers have struck pay dirt in the now dry bed of a 90,000-acre lake near the California-Oregon border. Instead of rich ore, in the past five years they have taken $27,000,000 from the rich soil in the form of Klamath potatoes, malting barley and clover.

The new farmers, most of them veterans of Uncle Sam's fighting forces, homesteaded and developed the area, after the waters of shallow Tule Lake had been drained by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

At first, even the surrounding terrain was inhospitable. It lies on a 4,000-foot high plateau, rimmed by rugged mountains and the desolate Modoc lava beds.

But the soil was fabulously rich, and needed only irrigation water and the hard work of the willing veterans to eventually transform the area into a prosperous, modern, comfortable agricultural community.

This is a typical field of barley nearing maturity in the Tule Lake homestead area. The old shoreline of the lake can be clearly seen at the base of the hills in the background.

It wasn't easy. The first homesteaders lived in shacks and tents while they harvested a crop. Roads were bottomless mires of mud. There were no schools, no electric power, no telephones. Many of the faint-hearted gave up, but most faced the situation and hung on doggedly.

The town of Tulelake was incorporated in 1937. Paved roads crossed the basin, power and telephones were installed, and homes built. Schools and churches went up, and a weekly newspaper began publication.

THE FULL potential of the area still had not been tapped, so after World War II the veterans' quest for land culminated in the most publicized lottery since selective service. Two thousand ex-servicemen from all parts of the nation sought 86 farms being offered for homesteading. Other farms were homesteaded in 1947 and 1948. Today there are plans for opening still another area of the old lake bed.

Agriculturally, the homestead area is a sensation, despite its short growing season and often severe winters. Klamath potatoes have been sure-fire and the Hennechen (drawing) barley grown there every year. Introduction of Alsike clover brought the homesteaders another good cash crop. In addition the old lake bed raises onions, alfalfa hay, some seed crops, and livestock.

The steady cash income from the homestead farms has brought an equally steady and solid growth to the community. City officials like to point out that, despite its brief history, Tulelake is not a boom town. Its permanent, modern buildings, wide paved streets, four hotels, theater, schools, civic and social organizations confirm that contention.

As one of the west's most famous duck and goose hunting areas, the city is benefited by a large influx of hunters every year. And the area even has an incipient oil boom.

Today the entire area is prosperous. The homesteaders, from first arrivals to the Johnny-come-latelys of the years from 1946 to 1949, are doing fine. Merchants in Tulelake are more than prosperous.

The homesteaders are grateful that the government offered them the opportunity to own their own farms, but they point out that they built their own individual successes. Farming under these conditions required know-how, courage, physical strength, and plenty of just plain hard work. The Tule Lake homesteaders had those qualities in abundance, plus a generous portion of the pioneering spirit which developed the west.

Even after appearing in more than 25 pictures John Beal was still hoping for a big break, the one role that would take him straight to the top. It was given to him by Stanley Kramer, the star maker; Kramer called him, in New York, to ask if he'd like to play the prison psychologist in "My Six Convicts," at Columbia. Beal says he reacted very calmly—except that he still has a lump on his head from hitting the ceiling of his hotel room. Between films he has done radio, television, and appeared on the New York stage; two plays he starred in were bought for the movies, but someone else was given the roles he created.

THE FICTION CORNER

SHARE ALIKE

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

THE second week after they reached the cabin on Wolf Creek, Sid Condon, exploring a tributary alone, found gold. He spent half a day estimating the value of the find. It was a pocket and would probably net a total take of between $40,000 and $50,000. Sid filled his pipe and sat down to meditate. The thing to do, of course, was to get Duke Brandon, his partner, clean out the placer, and hit for Big Rock settlement before the snow came.

Sid sucked on his pipe, and his eyes grew crafty. Into his mind there came a picture of thin-lipped Duke Brandon. Why should he share this find with Duke? A man with $40,000 could retire and live for the rest of his days in comfort. A man with only half that amount would have to scrimp. Forty thousand dollars!

Duke Brandon was in a surly mood that night. He had had no luck. The food supply was getting low. Snow would come soon. Why not quit now while their chances of getting out were good?

"Wait a week," Sid urged. "Might as well make sure we ain't missin' anything."

So Duke was prevailed upon. The next morning they started out again in opposite directions. Sid went south, circled west and came to his claim. Working feverishly he panned a handful of gold and carried it up stream a half mile, caching it beneath a large moss-covered rock.

The next day and the next and the next it was the same. Duke became more disgruntled. He decided to remain only one more day. The next morning Duke headed north. Toward noon he swung west and south. At mid-afternoon he came to a moss-covered rock lying near the shore of what was to him an explored tributary. He sat down to smoke and rest, and as he sat there the slanting rays of the sun fell upon a dull, yellow piece of metal. Duke blinked, then leaned forward. He picked up the piece of metal and saw beyond it a small opening beneath the rock.

He knelt and reached into the hole and took out a handful of gold. Sid Condon had stood in the bed of the stream when caching his placer gold, so there were no footprints nor other signs to indicate his having been there.

There must be $30,000 worth of metal in the cache. Half of that was his, according to the unwritten law. The other half—but what could a man do with a mere $15,000?

Duke took a small sack from his pocket and filled it full with the dull, yellow dust. His breathing came heavy as he knelt there. His eyes glowed feverishly. He knotted the sack together and rose from his knees—and stopped dead still.

Sid Condon was standing not 15 feet away. Sid's left hand contained a sack similar to the one in Duke's. It was not full, but the bulge was evidence enough as to its contents.

For split seconds the two men stared at each other. Significance of the meaning of the situation dawned slowly in their sluggish brains.

Sid Condon's lips flattened against his teeth. His eyes narrowed to slits.

"Sol!" he cried hoarsely. "Sol! This is how it is! Partners, eh?"

"Partners," Duke Brandon echoed. "Partners!" he repeated in ugly scorn. "You louse!"

SM Condon laughed harshly. He was bigger than the other man, and he felt confident.

With the speed of a snake his hand flashed to his hip where hung the revolver. His finger contracted on the trigger and flame leaped from his muzzle.

Sid Condon saw his partner's body jerk convulsively, and he knew he had scored a hit; knew it only dimly though, for the sound of his own gun had come from a great distance, and there was a drumming and pounding in his ears. He sank to his knees, and through the haze of his vision he saw that Duke Brandon was also on his knees.

Then he knew that Duke had equalled him in speed at the draw. They lay, so close they could almost touch, each holding firmly to a sack of gold; lay and cursed and were eventually silent while the silvery stream rippled on, and night finally came.

Serve Simple Refreshments Graciously (See Recipes Below)

Entertaining Lightly

ANY WOMAN WHO belongs even to one club will have to take her turn at entertaining the members every once in a while. Perhaps it's a sewing circle, a bridge group or a committee.

These occasions which come in the afternoon or evening need something of the light refreshment variety. You'll want something your friends will have about, but at the same time, keep it simple and easy to serve.

Light desserts are welcome often, and so are tasty but dainty sandwiches or cookies. If these can be made in advance, you're free to devote the last few minutes before they arrive toward looking your prettiest or giving the house a once over lightly to have everything at its best.

If the refreshments are to be served buffet style, with all the ladies going to the dining table or sideboard to help themselves, this can be set in advance. Your prettiest tea set with attractive platters of cakes, sandwiches or cookies will make for a decorative occasion.

A few blossoms or leaves attractively arranged can add festivity even to simple tables. If you have a lovely glass bowl, try floating a few daisies in clear water, or place some vines in a well designed container.

Refrigerator cookies can be mixed and chilled several days ahead of time, to be baked on the morning of the day you entertain. This type is especially colorful:

*Fruity Ice Box Cookies (Makes 6 dozen)
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup minced candied cherries
1/2 cup minced candied green pineapple

Blend together shortening, sugar, egg and vanilla. Stir in remaining ingredients and blend until smooth.

Divide dough into four equal parts and shape each portion into a 1-inch roll. Chill rolls thoroughly. (They may be wrapped in foil or waxed paper.) Slice off cookies about 1/4-inch thick and place on ungreased cookie sheets 2 to 3 inches apart. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 15 minutes.

These date cookies are really sandwiches and give you nice variety with any other kinds of cookies served:

Oatmeal Date Sandwiches (Makes 48 cookies)
Cookie Dough:
1 1/2 cups butter or substitute
1 cup brown sugar
2 1/2 cups flour
2 1/2 cups rolled oats, uncooked
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup warm water

Filling:
1 pound dates, minced
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup cold water
To make cookie dough, cream

LYNN CHAMBERS Enhance Your Vegetables To Add Menu Interest

Preserve fresh green colors in vegetables by cooking without the cover. Some vitamin loss will occur, but short cooking can prevent much of this, and vegetable will be eaten if it's more attractive.

Cabbage and cauliflower should be washed carefully to prevent any worms from lodging in the vegetable. If placed in cold, salted water for a short time before cooking, worms can be drawn out.

butter or substitute and add brown sugar, flour and oats. Combine soda and water and add to first mixture. Combine mixture thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto cookie sheet and press very flat with the bottom of a glass. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 10 to 15 minutes.

For filling, combine dates, sugar and water and cook in a double boiler until mixture is thickened, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and cool. When both cookies and filling are cool, spread filling on one-half of the cookies and cover with the remaining cookies, matching them by size.

Swedish Snowballs (Makes about 4 dozen)
2 cups rolled oats, uncooked
2 cups sugar
3 tablespoons cold coffee
1 tablespoon cocoa
2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 cup butter or substitute, melted

Combine rolled oats, 1 cup sugar, coffee, cocoa and vanilla in mixing bowl. Blend well with melted butter. Shape mixture into small balls about an inch in diameter. Roll balls in remaining sugar. Chill thoroughly in refrigerator.

Date-Coconut Pie (Makes 1 9-inch pie)
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon fine bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup dates, minced
1/2 cup moist, shredded coconut
1 9-inch unbaked pie shell

Beat sugar together with eggs; beat sour cream slightly and add to egg-mixture with all remaining ingredients. Stir until well mixed. Pour into pie shell and bake 15 minutes in a hot (425°F.) oven, then reduce heat to moderate (350°F.) and bake 30 minutes.

Here are two spreads which make small, tasty sandwiches. Use them on bread which is cut in small strips, rounds, triangles or ovals.

Peppermint Spread
1/4 pound peppermint sausage
1 5-ounce jar cheese spread (relish or pimiento)
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
Grind the sausage and blend with cheese. Fold in parsley and whipped cream. Let mellow in refrigerator for 4 to 5 hours, covered, for best flavor.

Zesty Spread
1/2 pound braunschweiler sausage
1/2 cup salad dressing
1/2 cup pickle relish
1/2 teaspoon horseradish
Blend together and whip with a fork.

Combine leftovers of vegetables to achieve colorful triumphs like peas or corn in sautéed-out beets, lima beans in squash nests, carrots in green pepper, spinach molded in rings for creamed onions and cauliflower with pimiento strips.

Mashed potatoes should be as light and fluffy as it's possible to make them. Older potatoes should be boiled in water to which some milk and lemon juice is added to prevent darkening. Use hot milk in which butter is melted to make them fluffy.

The Highland Lads and Lassies

By ROBERT TURNBULL

Many parents are wondering what their children are doing in school. The children try to avoid talking school to their parents as much as possible. So at the risk of being annihilated by my fellow schoolmates, we'll relate some of the Helix High work.

Some of the Freshman classes are reading Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice"; others, just plain English 1.

The sophomores are having Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," and Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar." How dull!

In speech 1, the students and teacher are studying Voice Production — articulation, voice quality, loudness and pitch.

In health classes, they are learning about circulatory system including blood, heart and lungs.

Test such class is really hard at it studying the pros and cons of insurance: auto, collision, comprehensive, property damage, assigned risk plan, financial responsibility laws, medical payment and many others.

All I have to say is lead me nights.

All-Over Champion

A baseball world series is in reality the championship of the United States. Few other nations play baseball, Japan being an exception. Football, soccer and rugby are entirely different games, with the United States pointing largely at American football. Golf and tennis are international, with Uncle Sam dominating golf and Australia ruling the tennis empire. Racing is another international sport. Champions in each class should be listed or ranked on performance, regardless of nationality.

What about thoroughbred racing? Is there any international standard? There may be before this next spring is over. That standard might be Windy City II. He is a three-year-old. He can run fast. He can also run far.

Windy City II is not a Kentucky, Midwest, Eastern, Southern or California horse. He is a fine-looking Irish horse.

A horseman known as Rex Bell picked him up for $2,000 in Ireland. Then as a two-year-old, Windy City II proceeded to break loose with a rush over European tracks. He won his crown as the best two-year-old in Ireland, England and France. He was the champion over there while Tom Fool, pressed by Oh Leo, Primale, Hill Gail and one or two more took the lead over here.

But Windy City II had the jump on Tom Fool. He cleaned up his first American start two weeks ago when he won Mrs. Petite Lucille for $150,000.

The horse that had run badly in his first American start two weeks ago was another horse in the San Gabriel Stakes.

About Windy City II

A few minutes before the Irish runner's wild gallop I had asked Ben Jones about Hill Gail.

"In fine shape," Ben and Jimmy said. "He is a different horse now."

But Windy City II, with Arcaro up, came on a wild march down the stretch to beat A Glean by three lengths and Hill Gail by six lengths in terrific time over a track none too fast. He ran the seven furlongs in a shade over 1.22.

It was the way Windy City II turned the trick that counted. He was running away from the field when he passed the wire.

This will make the Irish horse a healthy favorite for the Santa Anita Derby to be run shortly. It will also make him something to handle in the $100,000 Handicap later on where he'll meet Countpoint, Hill Prince, Bed o' Roses and Next Move at extremely light weights.

Fourteen years ago, Stagehand won both the Santa Anita Derby and the Handicap. This Irish sprinter is first to challenge that record.

Countpoint and Hill Prince carry two heavy packages—around 130 pounds. This may be too much weight to spot Vandell's two mares and Windy City II.

Windy City II was badly confused in his first race at Santa Anita. "No wonder," some horseman said. "Here's an Irish horse discovered by an American Scot, sold to a Dutch-bred family, trained by W. F. Alvarado, ridden by an Italian, groomed by a negro."

Anyway, there was no Russian around.

So there is now a very good chance that this Irish flyer will repeat in Kentucky before Uncle Bill Corum's automatic eyes. It could happen. Don't forget the name.

All-Around Athletes

Mr. Don Iddon of the London Daily Mail insists that American athletes are single-track specialists. They don't even play out one game, he insists. It must be admitted our platoon system in football isn't much for stamina and fibre. It is merely better for the coach and the less ambitious player. But on the all-around stuff Mr. Iddon is largely listening to funny noises in his dome. The United States is packed with athletes who have starred in more than one sport.

For example, what about Mickey Cochrane, all-time catcher for the Athletics? Cochrane at Boston U. was a great football player. He was a fine passer, runner, kicker.

He was undoubtedly All-America as far as playing worth goes. He was a fine ballplayer. He was an excellent boxer. He was a first-class golfer. That's four sports. How many sports does one have to star in? How many combined golfers and tennis players, who could star at both games, has England? None, that anyone ever heard of. How about Ellsworth Vines, better than the best of the English at either sport? What about a kid known as Mathias of Stanford who won the Olympic all-around championship and then a fullback star.

What about Al Dark of the Giants, Merriman of the Reds, Sternweis of the Yankees and Brown, Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers, Klusnewski of the Reds, Chapman of the Indians and many others?

Doing Okay

When it comes to multiplication, the vaunted, rapidly reproducing rabbit can take a backseat to that old slowpoke of the woods, the opossum.

The Missouri conservation commission can cite figures to prove that the 'possum can give Bitter Rabbit a run for his money when it comes to producing young.

A mature cotton tail rabbit produces a yearly average of about 17 young in four litters. The labor-saving 'possum may produce just as many young in a year and does it in only two batches.

The 'possum may be slow about most things but the freakish little animal has the shortest gestation period of any North American mammal—only 12½ days. However, the time is lengthened a little because the young spend six to eight weeks in the mother's pouch.

At birth, young opossums are quite undeveloped and it would take 270 of the tiny creatures to make an ounce. They are so small that a litter of 16 would easily fit in a tablespoon.

The 'possum has many peculiarities not shared by fellow North American mammals. The American freak has a pouch similar to a kangaroo, a monkey-like prehensile tail, a grasping clawless thumb on the hind foot and more teeth than a dental laboratory window—50.

Although not possessing high grade fur, 'possums bring trappers in Missouri about one-sixth of their income. The hide isn't worth much—only 30 cents—but it is used in jackets, coats and trimming.

The 'possum will eat almost anything and conversely almost anything will eat a 'possum. Baked, the omnivorous little mammal is a gourmet's delight to some. For this reason, the 'possum which weighs from four to 12 pounds and attains a length of about two and one-half feet, seldom lives longer than eight years.

'Possum hunting has almost become a national sport. The wily little rambler of the woods is found in almost every state. Any dog, from the pedigreed to the cur, can tree a 'possum and bring home the bacon, or 'possum. There's a reason. The 'possum just isn't very bright.

Out of the Past

In the "golden days" only the nobility, or persons of high rank were able to indulge in the sport of hunting. "Certain species of game belonged exclusively to the crown."

Large areas were set aside for the hunting pleasures of the king and those he chose as companions of the chase. Ownership of hunting dogs was prohibited in areas bordering or close to these restricted lands, unless the dogs were crippled.

The chase had its set rules and regulations, formalities and ceremonies. The taking of a wild boar or a stag was the occasion of celebration and feasting, and the whole sport of hunting was encased in ritualistic glamor. In this country, hunting has always been an informal pastime for the most part, the notable exception being the manner in which the fox is hunted in some sections. The Colonel and Judy O'Grady's boy friend are on a common level when they are attracted in hunting garb, and class distinctions are not recognized. We, too, have a hunting nomenclature when it comes to game and guns and methods.

We have a covey or bevy of quail, a brood of grouse, a flight of woodcock, a flock of ducks, a wedge of geese and many other descriptive terms.

But, in describing game, the ancient Nimrods dug up adjectives and nouns long since dropped from general use. Joseph Strutt's "Sports and Pastimes of the People of England, Including the Rural and Domestic Recreations, May Game, Mummers, etc. from the Earliest Period to the Present Time" (edition of 1801) contains a long list of nomenclature that should be of interest to the present-day sportsman. Here's a sampler:

"It was necessary for every lover of the chase that he be acquainted with when beasts went in companies—a pride of lions, a lepe of leopards, a herd of harts, a bevy of roes, a sloth of boars, a singular of boars, a sower of wild swine, a route of wolves, a scull of foxes, a cote of badgers, a richness of martins, a festyness of ferrets, a huke or down of hares, a nest of rabbits, a clowder of cats, a shrewdness of apes, and a labour of moles."

Henry P. Davis, Romington Arms Co.

Action's the Thing

Color, contrary to many opinions, may or may not be the deciding factor in a plug's effectiveness. While it is true that at spawning season, a red and white lure seems to be absolutely "tops" and later in the summer the more natural colors such as perch, pike, and shiner finish are the dogs, we feel that the plug caster should outfit himself with a good selection of colors the year round.

During the crowded final hearings of the Senate Committee—or my chairmanship of it, at least—we waded into a situation which smacked strongly of the roaring '20s.

Such were the workings of a vast bootleg ring which is running whiskey from Cairo, Ill., into dry Southern states. This was reminiscent of the bloody prohibition era, when trucks were hijacked, liquor shipments disguised as legal merchandise and public officials corrupted on a wholesale scale. But these new-style rum runners boasted an up-to-date wrinkle: They use counterfeit federal and state liquor stamps.

Some of the wholesalers involved, we discovered, had been connected with a huge black market liquor racket in World War II. Leading distillers have been appealed to both by a conference of Southern state revenue and alcohol commissioners and by our Senate Committee to take steps to remedy this situation.

We also saw in Washington a new type of gambling witness—42-year-old Sydney Brodson of Milwaukee, who told us he is licensed to practice law in two states, Brodson, polite and soft spoken though almost unbearably cocky at times, is a graduate of two colleges. Some years ago he found he had a talent for picking winners. Letting his law practice slide, he set up a small office, describing himself fictionously as a "food broker," and went into the full-time business of scientifically wagering on football and basketball games across the nation.

He estimated that he placed bets with bookies and other gamblers in about 20 states, waged about $1,000,000 per year and netted approximately $80,000 a year. In seven uninterrupted years of this, he said he has amassed a net worth of approximately $250,000.

The smart young man, however, wasn't smart enough. On the heels of his testimony, the state income assessor in Milwaukee announced that the income Brodson had reported over recent years simply did not add up to what he told the Committee he was worth, and that a thorough investigation would be undertaken.

Certain of the bookmakers who handled Brodson's bets also must have wished he had talked less. Law enforcement officers in various cities jotted down names and addresses of the individuals with whom he said he placed bets. Before Brodson left the stand, he had located and arrested his betting associates in cities separated by thousands of miles.

Travelogue

An old Boston family were persuaded to take a trip to California. Never previously had they considered it worthwhile to travel farther from home than Lexington, Concord, Dedham and other Boston suburbs.

When they arrived in Los Angeles, their friends inquired: "By which route did you come?" The man turned to his wife and asked, "Darling, didn't we come by way of Dedham?"

Helix Runs Fourth in Basketball; Turns to Horsehide

Helix High's athletes, after a rather disappointing fourth place finish in the City Prep League basketball race, turn to baseball as the Spring classic is rapidly approaching.

Two bright spots on Helix's finished the season by belting Kearny, 60-42 and that Center Noel Mickelson bagged C.P.L. scoring honors, nailing down 150 markers. Helix wound up league play with a 6-won, 6-lost mark, but had a much better 16-7 record for all games. In loop action, Helix lost to Hoover twice, both by scores of 43-39. They also lost both games with Point Loma. The Highlanders split with San Diego and La Jolla, while beating Kearny and Grossmont in both games. The games Helix are most proud of are their two victories over Grossmont, their 60-42 triumph over Kearny, their 60-33 lacing of San Diego and a 57-38 thumping given to La Jolla.

Two games the Highlanders would like to forget are a 42-56 massacre given them by Coronado in the Kiwanis Tournament and a 49-26 pounding dealt out by La Jolla in league play. Final standings and scoring leaders:

City Prep League (Final Standings)
	Won	Lost
Hoover	11	1
Point Loma	10	2
San Diego	7	5
Helix	6	6
Kearny	3	9

Program to be Thursday

The Lemon Grove District Teachers Association program meeting will be held this Thursday (today) at the San Miguel Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. "The Teacher's Place in the Community" is the subject selected for panel discussion.

Participating in this discussion will be local civic leaders from churches, the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, Business Women's League and the Lemon Grove Woman's Club. Refreshments are to be served by the social committee with Agnes Rodgers, chairman.

DO UNTO OTHERS

Every Christian knows the Golden Rule from Jesus' Sermon on the Mount as reported in Matthew vii, 12: "All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so unto them."

But not so many know that the Golden Rule appears in seven of the greatest world faiths, in each expressing more or less the same idea. Thus: Confucius says: "What you do not want done to yourself, do not do to others," a negative version of the Rule. Hinduism: "Men gifted with intelligence . . . should always treat others as they themselves wish to be treated."

Buddhism: "In five ways should a clansman minister to his friends and familiars: by generosity, courtesy and benevolence, by treating them as he treats himself, and by being as good as his word."

GOAT OWNERS MEET

Southern California Milk Goat Association will meet at a pot-luck luncheon at 12 noon Sunday in Library Hall, El Cajon. Educational films will follow business meeting at 1.
